

Benjamin Franklin Decision Making Process Form

as mentioned on page 95 of "How to Get a Raise" by Russ Hovendick

By employing this process, you will have the opportunity to remove emotions from your decision. Emotions tend to cloud vision, making it difficult to make clear decisions. Remember, deal only with facts. After compiling your list, one side will typically outweigh the other, providing you with the answer you seek.

Reasons to take this action

Reasons not to take this action

Remember: Do not judge yourself for thinking one way or another. Only you know what is best.
Be completely honest with yourself!

Directional
Motivation

DEVELOPING YOUR STEPS TO SUCCESS